The Département de santé buccale of the Université de Montréal is searching for two full-time assistant or associate professors in orthodontics.

As a professor, you will have the opportunity to contribute to the excellence of the Faculty of Dental Medicine…

…through your teaching and your research activities. You will also ensure the visibility of your discipline as well as actively participate in the operation of a renowned institution. As such, you will be responsible for:

- Didactic, preclinical and clinical teaching of orthodontics to graduate and undergraduate students;
- Conducting research in the field of orthodontics;
- Supervising research projects of postgraduate orthodontic residents;
- Contributing to the functioning of the Faculty of Dental Medicine and to the overall excellence of the Université de Montréal;
- Enhancing the University’s reputation by sharing your scholarly work with the scientific community and with society at large.

The requirements to succeed in this role are:

- Holder of, or in the process of obtaining, a Masters (M.Sc.) and certificate in orthodontics, or having equivalent training; having a Ph.D. will be considered an asset. It is important to note that should the Masters not be obtained prior to the starting date of employment, the applicant will assume the position of Lecturer for a maximum period of up to one year;
- Holder of, or able to obtain, a permit to practice dentistry from the Order of Dentists of Quebec;
- Holder of, or eligible to obtain certification in orthodontics from the National Dental Examining Board of Canada or from the Royal College of Dentists of Canada or equivalent body;
- Having an interest in complex and multidisciplinary orthodontic treatment;
- Having a good knowledge of teaching and motivational techniques;
- Being able to direct, develop or collaborate with recognized clinical and/or basic research teams;
An adequate knowledge of the French written and spoken language or a strong commitment to mastering the proficiency level required, in accordance to Université de Montréal’s Language Policy. An institutional learning support program is offered to all professors wishing to learn French or improve their communication skills.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Université de Montréal is strongly committed to fostering diversity and inclusion. Through its Equal Access Employment Program (EAEP), UdeM invites applications from women, Aboriginal people, visible and ethnic minorities, as well as persons with disabilities. We will —confidentially— adapt our recruitment mechanisms to the specific needs of people with disabilities who request it.

UdeM embraces a broad and inclusive definition of diversity that goes beyond applicable laws, and therefore encourages all qualified individuals to apply, regardless of their characteristics. However, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadians and permanent residents.

In order to measure the impact of its equity, diversity and inclusion actions, UdeM is collecting data on applicants identifying themselves with one of the groups targeted by the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, namely women, Aboriginal people, visible minorities, ethnic minorities and people with limitations. To this end, we thank you for completing this self-identification questionnaire. The information you provide through this form is strictly confidential and will be shared only with those responsible for the UdeM EAEP. If you wish, you may also indicate that you belong to one of the targeted groups in your cover letter, which will be reviewed by the selection committee and the assembly of peers.

Université de Montréal’s application process allows all members of the Professor’s Assembly to review the application files submitted. If you wish to keep your application confidential until the shortlist is established, please mention it in your application.
